

Privacy Policy

When referenced in this document, Raw Energy Dance Education (REDED) includes the Australian School of Performing Arts (ASPA), the Australian Girls Choir, ASPA Education, the International School of Performing Arts and the International Girls Choir.

Raw Energy Dance Education (REDED) is dedicated to ensuring the privacy and security of all information collected from our families, staff members, contractors, clients and other parties that make contact with us. REDed adheres to the Commonwealth Privacy Act 1988, its thirteen Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) and the Privacy Amendment (Notifiable Data Breaches) Act 2017 in so far as they apply to our organisation and business operations.

Definitions

Personal information is information or opinion about a person whose identity is apparent, or can reasonably be ascertained, from the information or opinion – that is recorded in any form. For example, a person's name, address, financial information, phone number and date of birth (age).

Health information is information or opinion about a person's physical, mental or psychological health or disability, that is also personal information – whether in writing or not.

Sensitive information is information or opinion about a set of specific characteristics, including a person's legal guardianship parameters, racial or ethnic origin, religious beliefs or affiliations, philosophical beliefs, sexual preferences or practices; or criminal record. It also includes health information.

An eligible data breach occurs if there has been unauthorised access to, or unauthorised disclosure or loss of, Personal Information that a reasonable person would conclude is likely to cause serious harm to individuals to whom the information relates.

What information do we collect?

REDED collects the following types of information:

- personal, financial, health, photos, and sensitive information about students and their family, as well as passport details as required, provided by students, their family and others.
- personal, financial, Working with Children Check details, health, photos, and sensitive information, as well as passport, driver's licence and public liability details as required, about job applicants, staff members, contractors and clients; provided by job applicants, staff members, contractors, clients and others.

How do we collect this information?

REDED collects information in a number of ways, including:

- in person and over the phone: from students and their family, staff members, contractors, clients and job applicants
- from electronic and paper documentation: including job applications, employee and contractor personnel paperwork, emails, invoices, enrolment and re-enrolment forms, letters and consent forms
- through online tools: such as Dance Studio Pro, REDed's website, social networking services, apps and other software used by REDed

Why do we collect this information?

The primary purposes for which REDed collects information about students and their families include:

- supporting a student's education needs and wellbeing
- processing a student's enrolment
- providing the highest quality customer service available
- informing families about REDed activities through e-newsletters and other publications including photos
- fundraising for our charity partner Girls from Oz and marketing
- completing day to day administration and maintaining the good order and operation of our organisation
- fulfilling legal requirements including to allow REDed to discharge its duty of care or make reasonable adjustments for students with additional needs.

The primary purposes for which REDed collects information about staff members, contractors and job applicants include:

- assessing applicants' suitability for employment
- administering employment placement
- supporting health and wellbeing
- keeping individuals informed of REDed activities through emails, e-newsletters and other publications including photos
- fulfilling various insurance obligations, including public liability and WorkCover
- fulfilling legal obligations including employment and contractual and work health and safety
- investigating incidents and responding to legal claims against REDed

When do we use or disclose information?

REDED uses or discloses information consistent with privacy law (Cth), as follows:

1. For a primary purpose – as defined above
2. For a related secondary purpose – for example, to establish carpooling relationships with other individuals who have consented
3. Personal details of students may be shared with:
 - Child Safety regulatory bodies in order to comply with child employment obligations
 - Event coordinators and/or venues for the sole purpose of facilitating participation in REDed-sanctioned events, such as concerts, eisteddfods and external engagements
4. With notice and/or consent – including consent provided on enrolment and other forms
Unless REDed is notified otherwise in writing, the successful enrolment of a student, or employment of a staff member or contractor, is taken as consent for REDed to use photographs, audio and video recordings of relevant activities for educational purposes, staff training and in promotional material. All images will support a positive message and will not include the child's full name.
5. When necessary to lessen or prevent a serious threat to:
 - a person's life, health, safety or welfare
 - public health, safety or welfare
6. When required or authorised by law – including as a result of our duty of care, anti-discrimination law, occupational health and safety law, fee collection purposes, complying with tribunal or court orders, subpoenas or police warrants
7. To investigate or report unlawful activity, or when reasonably necessary for a specified law enforcement purpose
8. To establish or respond to a legal claim.

REDED staff contact information, such as email addresses or phone numbers, may be disclosed to fellow REDed staff members if REDed has the individual's consent, for example, to establish venue team relationships or contact for REDed-specific work commitments. Individuals are informed of this possibility.

Storing and securing information

REDED takes reasonable steps to protect information from misuse and loss, and from unauthorised access, modification and disclosure. These steps include, but are not limited to:

- undertaking training and providing direction to staff members and contractors who handle private information
- entering information into customised, secure database systems, which are accessed on a 'needs-only' basis and handled in a sensitive and secure way
- destroying or de-identifying personal, health or sensitive information where REDed no longer needs the information for any business purpose
- archiving Financial information in a secure location in accordance with the requirements of the Australian Taxation Office
- implementing a Data Breach Response Plan in the event that REDed experiences or suspects there may have been an eligible data breach. This response plan is intended to enable REDed to contain, assess and respond in a timely fashion and to help mitigate potential harm to affected individuals, per the requirements of the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner.

Accessing your information

REDED endeavours to take all reasonable steps to ensure that the information it holds is accurate, complete and up to date. All individuals, or their authorised representative(s), have a right to access, update and correct information that REDed holds about them.

REDED will only provide information and communications to parents who have a legal right to that information. In cases of separated families, REDed will not disclose information about one party to the other. If one party only is a legal guardian, REDed will not disclose information about the student to the other parent.

REDED families may seek to update their information held by REDed by contacting our office. REDed staff and contractors should update their information held by REDed by contacting our HR department when necessary.

You have a right under the Freedom of Information Act to request access to documents that we hold – this request must be responded to within 30 days. Privacy Act (APPs 12 and 13). We will ask you to verify your identity before we give you access to your information or correct it, and we will try to make the process as simple as possible.

Nicole Muir
CEO

This policy will be regularly reviewed.

Date: October 2025